1. Introduction

- 1.1. This policy has been developed with due regard for the UK Quality Code for Higher Education<sup>1</sup>, and the associated advice and guidance on admissions, recruitment and widening access themes. The QAA's guidance builds on the foundational principles of the Schwartz Report: 'Fair admissions to higher education'<sup>2</sup>, which establish a sound framework for ensuring students admitted to higher education are capable of achieving the award applied for, and that it will be of genuine benefit to them.
- 1.2. Fairfield School of Business (FSB) is committed to supporting the UK Government's agenda to improve social mobility across the UK by improving the accessibility of higher education and the participation of groups of people who are statistically underrepresented in higher education graduate populations.
- 1.3. This policy ensures that decisions to make offers to study on higher education programmes are based on a reliable assessment of a prospective student's ability and suitability for a programme, and are fair and unbiased.

2. Student Recruitment Policy

- 2.1. FSB implements a recruitment strategy that removes barriers for people whose personal or economic circumstances, or lack of academic experience may discourage them from pursuing a higher education qualification. The School additionally encourages applications from people coming to higher education via more traditional academic progression, to seek to create a diverse and inclusive student body.
- 2.2. FSB seeks to achieve this aim by:
  - i. collaborating with job centres and other employment organisations,
  - ii. participating in higher education-themed public events and career fairs,
  - iii. working with further education providers and sixth forms in the areas where the school has campuses,
  - iv. appointing ambassadors from within the School's student body to engage with prospective students in the above settings,
  - v. promoting its learning opportunities through conventional advertising channels (including print and digital media) and social media campaigns,

- vi. incentivising word of mouth referrals and holding regular campus drop-in sessions,
- 2.3. All students will receive a personal consultation with a member of the School's admissions staff, who will provide guidance on the application process and how to prepare for an academic interview.
- 2.4. FSB will ensure that recruitment practices do not unlawfully discourage or inhibit applications from those with protected characteristics defined in the Equality Act (2010).

3. Admission to Higher Education

- 3.1. FSB offers higher education programmes that lead to awards validated by degree-awarding university partners. Whilst specific student admissions criteria and procedures may vary depending on the requirements of the awarding partner, the following principles apply to all student admissions processed by FSB:
  - i. Offers to study at FSB will be made only on the basis that:
    - the applicant has the ability to successfully complete their programme and enter employment commensurate with their award after study,
    - the applicant has made an informed choice about their study options and is applying for a programme which is suited to their professional aspirations,
    - that the applicant understands the commitment they are making by accepting an offer to study at FSB,
    - the applicant has the financial means, whether through personal funds or eligibility for student financial assistance to support themselves during their studies,
    - (where applicable) the applicant is not barred from entry into the profession the qualification leads to by reason of prior criminal conviction,
    - The applicant is fit to study.
  - ii. No applicant will be at a disadvantage in obtaining a place to study at FSB for having a protected characteristic as defined within the Equality Act, or otherwise be unlawfully discriminated against during the admissions process.
  - iii. Judgements of academic merit and ability will be made by academic staff members from the applied-for programme, who will have a final say over whether the applicant will be admitted.

- iv. The School will use diagnostic testing during the admissions process to ensure that applicants have the essential skills to study higher education, which includes English language proficiency.
- v. The School will take steps to ensure the authenticity of documentary evidence used in the admission process.
- vi. The School will provide a responsive and professional admissions service, which ensures that applications are processed and decisions of admissions are returned within a reasonable timeframe.
- vii. Applicants may request feedback from the School if their application is not successful. Students will also have recourse to appeal against a decision of refusal where they can show that this policy has not been followed or make a complaint about the admissions process.
- viii. Staff involved in the recruitment and admission of students will be appropriately trained and supported to uphold this policy.

4. Students' Consumer Rights

- 4.1. FSB recognises that people studying higher education in the UK are protected by consumer laws and contract regulations that require providers to be open and transparent about the services they offer.
- 4.2. FSB will seek to uphold consumer laws by:
  - i. implementing a clear policy and procedure for the oversight of all information published about learning opportunities, which includes all promotional and 'pre-contract information' that may be used by a prospective student determine the suitability of a course to their needs (refer to our Public Information Policy),
  - ii. ensuring that terms and conditions are clear, unambiguous, accessible, and fair,
  - iii. ensuring students understand the terms and conditions of the programme and the personal financial implications of accessing student funding, as well their rights to refunds and compensation,
  - iv. ensuring staff involved in the recruitment of prospective students are appropriately trained to act in accordance with UK consumer protection laws, and resourced to provide a timely and responsive service,
  - v. publishing a Student Protection Plan setting out what students can expect to happen should a course, campus, or the institution close,

- ix. ensuring prospective students have recourse to appeal against a decision of refusal where they can show that this policy has not been followed or make a complaint about the admissions process,
- x. periodically reviewing its procedures against sector guidance about how to comply with consumer protection law published by the Competition and Markets Authority (CMA).
- xi. notifying students and applicants as soon as possible in the event of any changes to a programme offered, detailing the precise nature of the changes and the recourse students have to a refund if the programme no longer meets their needs or expectations.

5. Protection of Personal Data

- 5.1. FSB collects personal data about prospective students during the application and admissions process which is necessary for the School to confirm the identity of applicants and assess their suitability for study. This includes special category data, which is used by the School to ensure its programmes are inclusively recruited. This data is shared externally with the FSB's awarding bodies and the Higher Education Statistics Agency (HESA)<sup>3</sup>.
- 5.2. All personal data received by FSB is processed in accordance with our Data Protection Policy, which is compliant with UK Data Protection Law and the UK General Data Protection Regulations (UK GDPR).
- 5.3. The basis for lawful processing of personal data is:
  - Students' consent to use the information in the manner described in FSB's Privacy Notice,
  - Legitimate interest whereby this information is necessary for the conduct of the service we provide.
- 5.4. The basis for processing special category data is 'Explicit consent', and where applicable 'vital interest'.

7. Equality of Opportunities and Widening Access

Prospective students may be required to undertake additional interviews. The additional interviews are explained below:

Assessing applicants with Disabilities and Special Educational Needs (SEN)

- 7.1. The School welcomes applications from all disabled applicants, those with specific learning difficulties and special needs.
- 7.2. Early disclosure permits the School to offer prospective students suitable and reasonable adjustments during the admissions process and from the outset of their studies. This can be done on the School's application form, during the academic interview, or verbally to a member of the School staff.
- 7.3. All prospective students that have disclosed a disability or special need will be invited to attend an interview with a Student Support Officer to discuss the nature of the disability or special need.
- 7.4. All prospective students who declare a disability or special need will be advised of the support available to them via Student Support, including the process for applying for Disabled Students' Allowances.
- 7.5. Applicants must provide appropriate evidence from an accredited body or medical professional confirming the nature of the identified need.
- 7.6. Applicants unable to retrieve the required medical evidence from their GP or medical professional can complete a consent to access form. This enables the School to contact the applicants' GP or medical professional on their behalf. The consent to access form is available upon request from the Admissions Office and can be emailed electronically, if required.
- 7.7. If an applicant is at a disadvantage because the School cannot meet certain application requirements or is forced to apply at the expense of the learning experience, the School will promptly notify the applicant as soon as the situation becomes apparent.

Applicants with Criminal Convictions

- 7.8. A previous conviction does not necessarily preclude admission to FSB and the School complies with the Offender Rehabilitation Act (1974). Applications from applicants with a criminal record will be considered carefully.
- 7.9. Applications must declare their previous criminal history on the School's application form. School reserves the right to deny admission to an applicant if he/she has a criminal record that may endanger the safety of students and staff.
- 7.10. Applicants must declare all convictions, cautions, reprimands, warnings, and prohibitions if they intend to study a Health program involving students who come into contact with vulnerable members of society, as recognized under the Criminal Rehabilitation Act Exceptions Act (1974).

- 7.11. Applicants must provide full details of an unspent conviction upon request, after which they will be invited for an interview with the Senior Admissions Officer and/or Admissions Manager,
- 7.12. Depending on the nature of any unspent criminal convictions, applicants may be asked to provide a reference from their previous/current employer, probation worker, or an individual in good standing.
- 7.13. After the interview, the application will be reviewed by the Admissions Panel to assess the risk to other students, to staff, and to School property.
- 7.14. Applicants may be expelled from the School without prior notice if it is later found that the applicant has not reported any unspent and unfiltered convictions, cautions, reprimands, warnings, and bind-overs.
- 7.15. The School retains the right to refuse entry to any applicant with a previous criminal conviction which may jeopardise the security, safety, or reputation of the School.

Access and Participation

- 7.16. FSB and its awarding bodies are committed to promoting fair access to higher education and working to improve the participation of groups of people statistically underrepresented in UK graduate populations. This commitment is enshrined within our Access and Participation Statement, which can be read on the Schools' website.
- 7.17. The School positively encourages applications from candidates from a diverse range of backgrounds, experience and ages, including those with disabilities. The School ensures that applicants participate in a fair and equal process for selection, regardless of gender, sexual orientation, race, ethnic origin, age, disability, religious beliefs, or personal economic circumstances.
- 7.18. FSB, as a community-focussed learning provider, applies these values at a local level; The School's typical student demographic comprises mature learners from black and minority ethnic backgrounds who are returning to education, and who may need support in developing 'academic readiness' for HE. FSB specialises in the development of fair recruitment processes and reliable admissions screening for non-standard entry, suited to this demographic.
- 7.19. FSB works with awarding bodies that have approved Access and Participation Plans in place with the Office for Students (the Higher Education Regulatory Body for England). Where courses are delivered under franchise-validation arrangements, FSB works with its awarding bodies to ensure the fulfilment of their A&P Plans.

All offers issued by FSB are conditional and subject to final approval from the awarding university. If the awarding university deems an application unsuccessful, FSB will have to cancel the conditional offer. This can still take place even after the applicant has accepted the offer.

- 10.2. The Re-admission Process applies to former FSB students who were previously enrolled on a course and have requested permission to be readmitted to study.
- 10.3. This process applies only to students who previously withdrew from a course or were withdrawn by the School.
- 10.4. Students are required to provide documentary evidence to explain why they were unable to complete their previous course, and their activity since leaving the School.
- 10.5. Applying for Re-admission can be done by completing the Re-admission form which can be found on the FSB website <https://fsb.ac.uk/readmission-process>.
- 10.6. Former students wishing to apply for Re-admission are encouraged to complete the Re-admission form one month before the start date of their new chosen course. Any applications submitted after this time may not be processed in time.
- 10.7. Former students who have been approved by the Re-admission Panel will be required to re-apply as a new student and follow the standard admissions process and meet any conditions outlined by the Re-admission Panel, if any.

- 10.8. Former students that have been deemed unsuccessful for Re-admission would not be able to re-apply at FSB for any future cohorts or appeal against the decision of the Re-admission Panel.
- 10.9. If an applicant has had previous study terminated, or was in poor academic standing at the point of their withdrawal, the school reserves the right to not consider their application to any programme of study.

11. Feedback, Appeals and Complaints

- 11.1. FSB is committed to providing a fair, transparent and consistent procedure for handling feedback, appeals and complaints which is accessible to all applicants. However, we acknowledge that there may be cases where you are dissatisfied with the admissions process, and in this case, the appeals and complaint procedure has been designed with due regard for the associated guidance of the UK Quality Code.

Informal Complaint Procedure

<https://fsb.ac.uk/appeal-complaints>
- 11.5. The complaint form should be completed and submitted correctly and should include copies of all previous correspondence; and explain why the applicant remains dissatisfied and the intended outcome.
- 11.6. The Senior Admissions Officer shall investigate the complaint with relevant staff, if it is deemed necessary, and reply within 10 working days.
- 11.7. If the applicant continues to be dissatisfied with the Senior Admissions Officers' response, the applicant may then write to the Admissions Manager. The Principal will be made aware of complaints escalated to this level.

- 11.8. The response from the Admissions Manager is considered final.
- 11.9. Complaints must only be made by applicants, except in special circumstances.
- 11.10. If the complaint procedure is not followed correctly by the complainant, the complaint may be considered inadmissible.
- 11.11. The complaints procedure cannot be used to appeal against the outcome of an application (See 10.4 for appeals).

NB: the Admission complaints procedure is distinct from the Student Complaints Procedure.

Making an appeal on a rejected application

- 11.12. Where an application has been rejected, the applicant may appeal in writing to the Admissions Panel.
- 11.13. Applicants can submit an appeal by completing the Admissions Appeal Form available on the School website: <https://fsb.ac.uk/appeal-complaints>

- 11.15. The Admissions Panel responds to the applicant's appeal in writing, usually within 10 business days. If a response is delayed, the applicant will be notified of the reason for the delay.
- 11.16. The applicant is notified of the appeals process when the outcome of their application was published.
- 11.17. If the appeal is granted, the response will be communicated to the applicant and will indicate the results of the school's application review.

11.18. The decision of the Admissions Panel is final.

NB: the Admission appeals procedure is distinct from the Student Appeals Procedure.

Requesting feedback on a rejected application

11.19. The Feedback procedure has been designed in accordance with the UK Quality Code.

11.23. The Admissions Manager will provide general feedback to the applicant within 10 working days from the date of the request.

12. Student Induction

12.1. FSB will offer an inclusive and suitable induction to all new students as a part of their formal enrolment onto the School's programmes.

12.2. The purpose of School's induction is primarily to:

- 12.4. Students enrolling on a franchised/validated course under a collaborative partner will be asked to complete the university/School's enrolment/registration form which is then forwarded to the relevant partner.
- 12.5. New students must attend the School's induction day. (In case the student misses the induction day or time slot, one to one induction may be provided on arrival as part of the registration process).
- 12.6. The School reserves the right to cancel and withdraw any application if the student does not attend the induction and there is no formal communication with the Admission Team. More information about student inductions is given in the School's Student Induction Policy

13. False Information

- 13.1. The School reserves the right to withdraw or reject any application found to contain misleading or false information. This information may also be shared with the external patrons for further investigation and may result in the application being withdrawn entirely.

Where there are any doubts about the authenticity of the documents further checks will be made through the issuing authority. Evidence of further checks will be placed on the applicant's file.

14. Review and Update

- 14.1. Responsibility for reviewing and evaluating the effectiveness of the Student Admissions and Recruitment Policy resides with the Academic Board. Updates to this policy will be coordinated by the Admissions Manager, all revisions and amendments will be reviewed by the School's Executive Committee and ratified by its Board of Governors.
